Truman Hints Middle Bracket Tax Increase

Says Persons Making Over $6000 To Pay

Washington, Jan. 13—(AP)—President Truman suggested by implication today that Congress increase the taxes on individual incomes of $6,000 or more.

He told a news conference the treasury defines "middle bracket" incomes, which he had suggested as a possible source for new revenue, as those starting at $6,000 and going up to $25,000 or $30,000 a year.

In his state of the union message the President asked for $4,000,000,000 in new taxes. He said this should come principally from additional corporation taxes, with a portion coming from revised estate and gift taxes.

Not Specific
He also said in the same message that consideration should be given to raising personal income levies on "middle and upper bracket" incomes. He did not specify the range exactly.

When a reporter tried to clear this up today, Mr. Truman mentioned the treasury minimum as $6,000 for the middle bracket, but he added with a smile it all depends on the point of view. If you make $6,000, you probably want the middle bracket to start at $10,000.

A reporter wanted to know how Mr. Truman felt about the late President Roosevelt's proposal to limit individual incomes after taxes to $25,000 a year.

Mr. Truman said he has no set views on that. But he added that if a man has brains enough to know enough about the tax laws to make more than $25,000, he probably is entitled to it.

Congress Still Cool
Many members of congress were still cool to boosting taxes as much as the President asked. Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the House Ways and Means Committee said he hoped it wouldn't be necessary to make a $4,000,000,000 increase.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said: "I'm opposed to any increase in taxes." Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee said: "It is obvious that if we are to raise $4,000,000,000 in taxes, about half of that amount will have to come out of corporation levies and about half out of personal income taxes. To get $2,000,000,000 more in personal income taxes, we will have to go down to incomes of $6,000 or even less."

The President's news conference covered a wide range of subjects. Asked whether he knew anything of any new Russian "peace offensive," he said he did not.

WILL SEE STALIN
A reporter wanted to know if he still is willing to see Premier Stalin in Washington. Mr. Truman said he was.

He has repeatedly expressed unwillingness to go abroad for another "Big Three" meeting, but a readiness to see Stalin in Washington if he wants to come.

(Moscow Press dispatches said today the subject of a Truman-Stalin meeting is being kept alive in the Soviet Press.)

The President said he thought Gen. Walter Bedell Smith would continue as ambassador to Russia, if necessary, but declined to say whether he will insist on his return to Moscow. He said Smith had offered his resignation for health and other personal reasons.

Back on domestic affairs, Mr. Truman said there will be no more cabinet changes before his inauguration next Thursday. This was in reply to an indirect question whether he expected to receive any "farewell presents" at tomorrow's cabinet meeting.

Why don't you be more direct, he asked smiling. When the question was reframed he said there would be no more shifts before Jan. 20.

Rescued After 5 Days In Plane

Bakersfield, Calif., Jan. 13—(P)—Semi-comatose for five days in a plane that crashed on Bear Mountain last Saturday, killing three other occupants, Mrs. Andy De Freitas was rescued tonight.

She told rescuers: "don't mind me. Look after the others."

Barely able to talk, and conscious only at intervals, the woman was unaware that her husband, Mrs. Eve Williams and the pilot, Robert G. Goe, were dead. They apparently died instantly in the crash.

Mrs. De Freitas, 24, of Burbank, was rescued by a party that included Dr. Robert H. Dykes, who with Mrs. Dykes was rescued Nov. 13, 1947 from a Utah mountain peak by a rescue party that included Goe.

Trying to repay his debt to Goe, Dr. Dykes stayed with the search all night, and with Tom Jamison, Taft airport manager, reached the little plane this morning.

Odom Hits U.S. Coast; Makes Record Flight

San Francisco, Jan. 13—(P)—Flier Bill Odom set a new light plane distance record of more than 2,300 miles today by crossing the Pacific from Honolulu—but he'll have to settle for that.

Tonight, with gasoline supply dwindling and faced with the task of clearing Nevada's mountains, he turned back and headed for a landing in Oakland.

Odom had set a goal of more than 5,000 miles to Teterboro, N. J., but no sooner had he crossed over to the mainland until he looked with concern at shrinking gasoline supplies. The winds he encountered over the Pacific had cut into them.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority in Reno heard him notify the Sacramento CAA office of his decision to turn back to Oakland.

He flew over the Golden Gate bridge at 4:27 p.m. Pacific standard time 6:27 p.m. C.S.T. after a 2,300 mile flight from Honolulu.

His original goal was 5,285 miles nonstop to Teterboro, but soon after his single-engine plane crossed over the mainland he said dwindling fuel supplies made that extremely doubtful.

He told the Civil Aeronautics Administration radio station here he is running short of gasoline and may have to land at Cheyenne, Wyo., or Denver.

By crossing the Pacific, a flight of 13 hours, 55 minutes, he exceeded the previous mark of a Russian of slightly over 2,061 miles.

Odom said he has only 80 gallons of gas left. That would take him about to Cheyenne, Wyo. "I'll go as far as I can, though," Odom said, "I don't know where I'll land."

He has been bucking head winds since he switched his course south to fly over San Francisco instead of Seattle. He said he changed his course by mistake this morning.

Odom said he will have to climb to 13,000 feet over Nevada in order to stay above the weather.

"I feel fine," he said, "Better than last night at this time and better than when I flew around the world."

He told the CAA radio station here he planned to make another change in his course—swing north and over Donner Summit.

He will pass over Elko, Nev., and Salt Lake City.

Odom told the CAA radio station here that "everything is coming along fine." He said the flight had been normal so far and his instruments and plane were functioning perfectly.

He left Honolulu at 10:32 p.m. (C.S.T.) last night.

Odom's little plane has a 185-horsepower engine and carried only 260 gallons of fuel for the venture. He was not refueling en route.

The Beech Aircraft Corp. of Wichita, Kas., is sponsoring the flight to test the capabilities of its plane.

Odom, 29, chose the stormy season to make the flight in order to take advantage of prevailing westerly winds. He originally planned to hit the Pacific coast in the Seattle area, but a shift in wind caused him to change his flight plan and come inland over San Francisco Bay.

He was "homing" on KSF, the CAA radio station at San Francisco. Heading east from the coast he planned to follow the CAA's transcontinental radio beam system via Elko, Nev.

Washington, Jan. 13—(P)—Choice beef steaks and roasts will be more plentiful the rest of the winter and the coming spring than last year.

This was indicated by an Agriculture Department report today that livestock farmers have a record number of cattle being fattened on grain and other concentrated feeds for the slaughter market.

In general, cattle fattened on grain make better quality beef than those fed on grass.

But the supply of medium and lower quality beef is expected to be smaller than last year. This is because marketings of cattle fed on pastures and ranges will be less.

The total cattle population has been declining for several years from record wartime peaks.

Urges President Be Given Power To Revamp Office

Washington, Jan. 13—(P)—Herbert Hoover urged Congress today to give the president sweeping authority to order reorganizations in the executive branch of the government.

It's time for reshuffling of "the most gigantic business on earth" so the government can serve the people better, Hoover said in letters to the House and Senate.

Former President Hoover heads a bi-partisan commission, established by Congress, to study governmental reorganization.

Hoover recommended restoration and broadening of the law under which the chief executive formerly had authority to order the consolidation and elimination of government functions.

KILLED WHILE SLEDDING
Peoria, Ill., Jan. 13—(P)—John Worsfold, five, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Worsfold of Alta, was killed today when his sled was hit by an automobile while he was coasting.

Repeal the Taft-Hartley law, make Alaska and Hawaii states, to form a committee of the world's outstanding experts to study the causes of cancer, to set aside March 30 of each year as National Shut-In Day.

Some bills conflict. Rep. O'Hara (R-Minn.) hates daylight saving time. He has a bill to make "standard time the measure of time for all purposes." Senator McGrath (D-R.I.) has one to authorize daylight savings time in the District of Columbia.

There is the usual run of bills involving limited areas.

Rep. Bland (D-Va.) figures the government ought to examine and survey Pope Creek, in Westmoreland, Va. Rep. Poulson (R-Calif.) would like for that hunk of ice on Mount Baker, Wash., to be named Kiser Glacier. Delegate Farrington (R-Hawaii) thinks air mail service should be extended to Kalaupapa, Ohio seems to feel particularly neglected.

Rep. Huber (D-Ohio) has a name for a new bridge across the Potomac here—"The Ohio Bridge." And Rep. Jenkins (R-you know where) wants to change the name of Eastern avenue here in Washington, to Ohio avenue, of course.

Chin up, Ohio. The boys are doing their best.

Bill To Increase Truman's Salary Passed By Senate

Washington, Jan. 13—(P)—A bill to increase the president's salary to $100,000 a year and give him a new $50,000 tax-exempt expense allowance was approved by the Senate tonight.

The vote on final passage was 68 to 9.

The measure now goes to the house, where administration leaders are expected to call it up the first of the week.

Besides hiking the president's pay by $25,000, the bill also boosts the pay of the vice president and the speaker of the house from $20,000 to $30,000. It also would give them $10,000 expense allowances.

Earlier the Senate amended the bill to erase proposed pay raises for cabinet members and other high government officials. The plan is to handle these in separate legislation.

Administration leaders feared that the entire bill could not be passed in the house before the inauguration of President Truman and Vice President Elect Barkley on Jan. 20.

The Constitution forbids any change in the pay of the president and vice president during their term of office.

Scientists Say U.S. Cities Unprepared For Atomic Attack

Chicago, Jan. 13—(P)—United States cities are not yet prepared to cope with an atom bomb attack, three atomic scientists said today.

They added that atomic bombs of the future will be bigger than those of the past and that radioisotopes used as weapons are "as frightening as bacteriological warfare."

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, the scientists said:

"At this particular moment, in spite of the fact that the atomic bomb was developed in this country and that great strides have already been made in terms of better understanding of the biological effects of radiation, we would hardly be much better off to cope with an atomic bomb attack on one of our major cities than the Japanese were at Nagasaki."

The scientists said the government and universities are spending millions of dollars on research for diagnosis, treating and preventing radiation injury.

One of the problems raised by an atomic bomb explosion, they said, would be that of separating for treatment the thousands of injured who might recover from those who were inevitably doomed by an overdose of radiation.

State-Controlled Medicine Blamed For Nazi Crimes
Chicago, Jan. 13—(P)—The medical adviser to the prosecution at the Nuernberg medical trial blamed state controlled medicine in part today for Nazi Germany's medical crimes.

Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, vice president in charge of the Chicago Professional Colleges of the University of Illinois said:

"The compulsory sickness insurance system of medical care after operation over a period of years led to a debased regard for the poor and underprivileged patient. Patients were too frequently treated as numbers rather than individual human beings with inalienable rights and dignity."

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Ivy said most systems of state medicine and compulsory sickness insurance bring "deteriorating evils."

Trustees Approve U. Of Illinois Budget Reduction

Chicago, Jan. 13—(P)—The University of Illinois trustees today approved a reduction of $2,000,000 in the institution's budget for the 1949-51 biennium.

The cut will bring the budget down to slightly more than $70,000,000; it still will be $10,000,000 over the total operating appropriation for the university for the 1947-1949 period.

On Oct. 21 the trustees approved a budget of $72,771,742 for the current two-year period. In a report on Dec. 31 Sen. Everett Peters, chairman of the legislative budget commission, said he would recommend a university appropriation of $54,271,741, or two million dollars less than the amount requested.

The $16,000,000 difference between the legislative appropriation and the university budget will come from the university income. This will put the new budget at $70,271,742.

The use of barley-corns (grains of barley) in measurement still survives in shoes numbers, which run by thirds of an inch or "barley-corns."

Acheson Denounces Charges That He Is Red 'Appeaser'

Truman Endorses American Policy For Bringing Peace To Palestine

Washington, Jan. 13—(P)—President Truman endorsed emphatically today a detailed American policy statement for bringing peace and stability to Palestine and the Middle East.

And he denied that relations between the United States and Britain are strained because of the situation.

The policy gave his unqualified support to a United Nations action in Paris last Nov. 20. It sets forth three objectives and a seven-point program for United Nations action—all aimed at permanently ending the Jewish-Arab war and creating political and economic stability throughout the Middle East.

Presumably Mr. Truman told Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador, substantially the same thing. He received Franks earlier in the day at a conference which the ambassador urgently requested on instructions from British Foreign Minister Bevin.

Franks was reported to have had two objectives in his talk with the president:

1. To set forth Britain's new and tougher policy in the Middle East, including troop dispositions in Trans-Jordan.

2. To obtain directly from the American chief executive a clarification of American policy.

In addition Franks is believed to have urged upon Mr. Truman the closest possible Anglo-American cooperation through firm measures in trying to restore peace and hold down a potentially explosive situation.

Shortly before the Truman news conference, three incidents in quick succession seemed to highlight difficulties between this country and Britain over Palestine issues.

1. Senator Morse (R-Ore.) accused Britain in the Senate of a "deliberate and provocative act" in sending planes over the Egyptian-Palestine border area last Friday. Five British reconnaissance planes were shot down. Morse said the United States must make it clear to British Foreign Minister Bevin that "this government will not ignore what has happened." Morse called it "a deliberate act."

2. The State Department officially disclaimed any responsibility for Britain's action in operating planes in the area (so did Mr. Truman). Press Officer Michael J. McDermott said the United States had been told by Britain that Israeli troops had entered Egypt, but that American confirmation was obtained from Israeli and Egyptian sources and that no suggestion was made that the British themselves obtain confirmation.

3. Senator Brewster (R-Me.) referring to reports of British military and diplomatic activity in the Palestinian situation, said in the Senate that "if Britain is shown to be able to spend large amounts of money on capricious military and diplomatic adventures, this can be taken as prima facie proof that its need for help (under the Marshall plan) must be exaggerated."

The American statement on Palestine to which Mr. Truman referred had been prepared at the State Department and was presented to a United Nations General Assembly committee by Dr. Phillip C. Jessup, an American delegate.

Carrying food, fuel and medical supplies to this blizzard-bound emergency area, the planes were the reservation's only link with help.

Roads still were blocked 10 days after the storm blanketed western South Dakota, cutting off entire communities and isolating ranches by the dozen.

There still were no confirmed death reports.

Fellow workers kept up a hunt for Allen Mackrell, sheep herder who vanished in the blizzard after leaving his shack on the reservation north of here. Mackrell's dog was found alive in the shack.

Five Navy Fliers Killed In Indiana Plane Mishap
Indianapolis, Jan. 13—(P)—A navy plane crashed shortly after taking off here late today and all five members of the crew were killed, the air force reported.

LT. Wesley Kille, stationed at Stout Field, nearby air force base, said the plane had taken off from Weir Cook municipal airport and crashed in a field a few minutes later. The airport is located southwest of Indianapolis.

LT. Kille said the plane was demolished and partly burned, with wreckage strewn over a considerable distance. He said the bodies were thrown out and were scattered for a distance of about 75 feet.

Municipal airport attendants said the pilot had filed a plan for flight to Patterson Field, Dayton, O., and had obtained weather information for such a flight.

COOPER REAPPOINTS 2 BANK EXAMINERS
Springfield, Ill., Jan. 13—(P)—The two chief bank examiners in the state auditor's office were reappointed today by auditor Benjamin O. Cooper.

Adlai E. Mueller of Chicago will continue to supervise the Chicago office and Frank A. Adams was re-named chief bank examiner at Springfield.

Manito, Illinois, Has $25,000 Fire
Peoria, Ill., Jan. 13—(P)—Fire destroyed the Seelye Implement company in the center of Manito's business district late today.

James Seelye, owner of the hardware and farm implement company, estimated damage to the large frame building at $25,000. He said the loss was partially covered by insurance.

Adjoining buildings suffered minor damage from the heat caused by the blaze.

Manito is a farm community of about 800 located in Mason county 28 miles southeast of Peoria.

Says He Will Clear State Dept. Of Spies

Washington, Jan. 13—(AP)—Dean Acheson scornfully rejected descriptions of himself as an "appeaser" toward Russia today and promised to root any Reds out of the state department.

Acheson is President Truman's choice as the new secretary of state.

Testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations committee, Acheson volunteered the comment that he is still "friends" with Alger Hiss, indicted former state department official and key figure in the 1948 spy investigations.

Wait Judgment Of Hiss
He suggested, by implication, that judgment on Hiss' guilt or innocence should await the outcome of his perjury trial.

As the jam-packed hearing went on, a heralded possible source of opposition to Acheson's confirmation failed to develop. Former Assistant Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle, Jr., telegraphed the senate "I do not oppose his (Acheson's) confirmation and no implications to that effect are warranted."

Berle said it was true that in the fall of 1944 he and Acheson differed on Russian policy. He said he had no confidence that Russian expansionism could be halted by a policy of wide concessions, while "Mr. Acheson like other men in the government at that time left otherwise."

Berle's telegram continued: "Difference Of Honest Men
"As I have repeatedly stated, the matter was one on which honest men could differ, and I have never felt that divergence on this question reflected on the competence or loyalty of men who went along with the policy then adopted."

Berle did not say precisely that he supported Acheson's nomination, but said he feels strongly that the secretary of state should take office under conditions giving him the best possible chance of complete success "for which he has my best wishes."

Acheson told the senate group that accusations labeling him an "appeaser" are "so incredible it is difficult for me to believe that even disinterested maneuvering could think them up."

And he said "of course" he is interested in rooting out any disloyal elements in the state department. "No step will be left untaken in order to secure the state department in its conduct of foreign affairs," the tall, well-groomed diplomat said.

Many Present
Spectators crowded a big senate caucus room to overflowing for the dramatic hearing as Acheson, smartly dressed in a gray double-breasted suit with a maroon-and-blue striped tie, testified for one hour and 54 minutes in defense of his nomination by President Truman.

He described himself as a firm believer in "steadiness and continuity" in foreign policy.

If confirmed as most senators expected he will be Acheson will succeed the ailing Gen. George C. Marshall in the No. 1 diplomatic post on Jan. 20.

Rallying to Acheson's support, former Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., told the senate group that President Truman made "a wise selection" in choosing Acheson.

Gets Plug From Stettinius
Stettinius testified that the late President Roosevelt had "very great confidence" in Acheson and had made up his mind to appoint him to "one of the highest posts of this government."

Highlights in Acheson's testimony included these points:

1. He has been and "remains friends" with Alger Hiss, one of the central figures in the famed Chambers-Hiss spy investigation.

Hiss is under indictment by a New York federal grand jury on perjury charges in connection with his denial that he ever gave secret state department data to Whittaker Chambers, confessed ex-communist and Soviet espionage courier.

2. Acheson's law firm represented the communist-controlled Polish government in 1946 when the state department approved a $90,000,000 loan to Poland.

But Acheson denied that his firm, in which he is still a member, exerted any influence in getting the loan. He was acting secretary of state at the time the loan was obtained.

Color blindness may be either acquired or congenital.

TRUMAN DEAL MAY SUCCEED BUT FACES LONG HAUL IN CONGRESS

It might seem that after winning the election, President Truman is capable of almost any feat—even getting his whole domestic program enacted by Congress. But the program is almost certain to be in for a hard fight. And its supporters in Congress have some hard work in store if they are to get the President substantially what he wants.

One problem for Mr. Truman and his Capitol lieutenants is to determine what and how much of those State of the Union requests can be tackled in one session. It will take a long time to consider the presidential want list and get some of the items which Congress may approve into operation.

It will also take money for the projected universal military training, St. Lawrence Seaway development, federal housing and education projects, many parts of the arm program, sundry studies, and so on. Mr. Truman has asked $4,000,000,000 increased revenue in new taxes. But that wouldn't pay for all the things he has in mind. So priority will be important.

Many things on the want list have been asked for before. These include a higher minimum wage, standby price and wage controls, the Truman civil rights program, UMT, medical insurance, the St. Lawrence project, housing and education subsidies and extension of the original reciprocal trade law. It remains to be seen how much better this Congress likes them than its predecessor did.

The Republican-Southern Democrat coalition will probably continue to function. It may well cause Mr. Truman continued trouble. The civil rights program is sure to be fought tooth, nail and filibuster—if the filibuster is still in existence.

The so-called "socialized medicine" plan is also due for some strong opposition. If uncontrolled prices continue their decline, the Democratic leadership may find it hard to sell the need for price controls, even to a Democratic Congress.

Of the new proposals, one will cause plenty of fireworks. That is the request to authorize government construction of steel mills if private industry does not expand as much as the government thinks necessary. Aside from the socialistic aspect of the request, which may even cause some of the President's adherents to hesitate, opponents will point out that steel capacity is already high and going higher.

The present capacity, 96,000,000 tons a year, is the highest in our history—including the war years. And production schedules call for a 98,000,000-ton capacity by the end of 1950. That is getting pretty close to the 100-million-ton goal that CIO President Philip Murray has mentioned.

Further, it takes steel to build mills to provide more steel. With steel already earmarked by private companies for construction purposes, the Administration could run into difficulties persuading some congressmen that the government should get that steel instead.

Naturally, Mr. Truman will find it infinitely easier and pleasanter to work with the 81st instead of the 80th Congress on domestic matters. And a number of his wishes will doubtless be granted without undue trouble. But he may have reason to reflect, from time to time, that in spite of his smashing victory he received fewer votes than the Dewey-Wallace-Thurmond opposition. He may also find that the notion of a "people's mandate" will produce some stormy contradiction on Capitol Hill.

Pittsfield Fights Sleet Problems

Pittsfield, county seat of Pike county, was in the direct path of the sleet storm which tied up a number of Illinois communities this week. Pittsfield business houses, industries and homes were without electric power. In the above photographs taken by the Pike County Republican, Central Illinois Public Service linemen are shown battling the shattered lines in effort to get them back in working order. Upper photo shows Glenn Daniels, foreman, and Donald Durham splicing one of the main power lines at midnight Monday. Ice had to be broken from a switch at Mayville before splicing could be attempted. In the lower photo Don Grist and Bill Orrill prepare pole lines for a midnight splicing job.

The Pike County Republican reported that business was practically suspended the first of the week because of power and telephone failures. Schools at Pittsfield and over most of Pike county were closed. Damage to power and phone lines was estimated at thousands of dollars.

H. S. And Grades

Franklin—The Franklin P. T. A. sponsored Visitation Day in the Franklin high and grade schools on Wednesday, January 12. Parents and other interested patrons were invited to visit the schools in session at any time during the day. They were also invited to eat lunch with the teachers and students.

Most of the teachers and board members of Community Unit School District No. 1 attended a meeting preceded by a banquet, at the Chapin high school on Wednesday, Jan. 5. The meeting was sponsored by the Morgan County Rural Administrators Group for the rural teachers of Morgan county. The banquet was served by the Chapin P. T. A. Superintendent J. Harold Voschall, of the Pittsfield Unit, was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Teachers' Salaries and Trends."

Those attending from Community Unit District No. 1 were transported to and from the meeting by school bus.

Darrell Smith, a sophomore in Franklin high school, is one of three Morgan county boys chosen to attend the four day training course on farm organization to be given at University of Illinois from January 30 to February 3. The course is being sponsored by the College of Agriculture at the university.

City Credited
With $3,922 In Gas Tax Funds

Jacksonville's share of state motor fuel tax funds during December was $3,922, according to a report from the office of Mark A. Saunders, state director of finance. The allotment has been credited to this city to be used for permanent street improvements.

An allotment totaling $1,235,835 was made to Illinois municipalities as their net share of motor fuel tax receipts during the last month of 1948. The gross allotment was $1,361,064, from which was deducted $125,229 as reserve for the $30,000,000 emergency relief bond issue.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with a burning and stinging sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Bridge Club Meets At Benscoter Home In Murrayville

Murrayville—Mrs. M. J. Benscoter entertained the Murrayville Bridge club Monday evening at her home here.

Three tables were at play throughout the evening, with prizes going to Mrs. Cary Andras of Manchester first; Mrs. M. M. Strang, second; and Mrs. Herman Baker, third. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Others present were Mrs. William Andras of Manchester, Mrs. Walrus Bealmeier, Mrs. J. L. Symons, Mrs. Andy Gomer, Mrs. T. J. Wilson, Mrs. Lawrence Million, Mrs. F. W. Wright, Mrs. C. F. Strang and Mrs. J. R. Newcomb.

The next hostess will be Mrs. J. L. Symons.

Carl Waukel has brought the East

Union school house and moved it to the Walker Hanback lot which he recently purchased in the northeast part of this town. Mr. Waukel expects to make needed improvements for a home.

Ollie Phillips, who recently bought the property of the late William Galloway, moved there this week.

Miss Betty Grider, employed by the Illinois Telephone company in Jacksonville, is staying at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Twyford, 1061 N. Fayette avenue.

J. B. Robbins of Garfield, Ky., stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Soper while enroute to his home from a business trip in Galesburg, Iowa. Mr. Robbins is a nephew of Mrs. Soper.

Mrs. Joseph E. Smith of Jacksonville spent Sunday and Monday with her cousin, Miss Lula Coultas, who is recuperating from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meadows of near Franklin spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. John Atkinson.

CROWN JEWELS FACE HOUSING PROBLEM

London—(AP)—Even Britain's crown jewels have housing and queuing problems. Only 6,000 of the 20,000 visitors a day at the Tower of London are able to see them. As a result, efforts are being made to move the display to larger quarters.

Col. E. H. Carkeet-James, governor of the Tower of London, told reporters: "I hope soon we shall have the use of the dungeons of the White Tower (largest in the Tower of London group) for the display of the crown jewels. There we can spread out a bit and there would be plenty of room."

Traffic Violations Lead 1948 Police Report In Jersey

Jerseyville—During 1948 a total of 188 persons were prosecuted for violations of city ordinances in this city, according to the annual report made by Chief of Police Edward Henson.

Prosecutions included 37 for drunkenness; 32 for disturbing the peace; 11 for disorderly conduct; 46 for various types of traffic violations; two for discharging firearms in the city limits; seven for destruction of property under the malicious mischief section of the misdemeanor ordinance; one for vagrancy and two for assault and battery.

In addition to the arrests made for prosecution under city ordinances, the local police also made a number of arrests wherein the defendants were turned over to the state for prosecution on charges such as carrying concealed weapons and larceny.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you just sprinkle a little FAS-TEETH, the alkaline, (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FAS-TEETH at any drug store.

Miss Rose Knight Becomes Bride Of C. E. Fronabarger

Miss Rose Evonne Knight and Charles E. Fronabarger were united in marriage in a lovely single-ring wedding ceremony which took place Saturday afternoon, Jan. 8, at Central Christian church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Rosa Knight, 627 North Main street. Mr. Fronabarger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fronabarger, 315 North Mauvasterre street.

The couple pledged their vows before the Rev. Roy S. Hulan. Attendants were Jeanne Johnson and Robert Meyers and the bridegroom's parents.

Mr. Fronabarger is attending school in Chicago. The couple are planning to make their home in that city.

Dance Saturday night. Amvets club. Jimmy Conlee's band.

Breakfast Opens Campaign to Sell Fair Memberships

A campaign to sell memberships in the new Morgan County Agricultural Fair association got under way at a workers' breakfast Thursday morning in the Dunlap hotel. This is the first time that Morgan county citizens have had the opportunity to support a fair association in this county for about 10 years.

Campaign workers attending the kick-off meeting were advised by fair officials that they are helping to promote a year-round program of recreation and educational activities for this area. Money raised from memberships will be used to retire all indebtedness on the grounds and to improve the property.

The fair will be only one part of a broad program of events to be staged on the grounds. The word "fair" is essential in the association name to enable the group to qualify for state aid as it becomes available for fair and agricultural uses.

Campaign workers were divided into five groups. The industrial division is headed by Lee Sullivan; the individual division by Sam Osborne and George Lukeman Jr., and the retail division by Claude Gustine. Chairmen are yet to be named in the rural and national firms division.

Earl Hembrough is general campaign chairman.

Present at the Thursday morning meeting were Hembrough, Lukeman, Sullivan, Gustine, Robert A. Fay, W. O. Randall, Milton Edge, J. C. Colton, Hugh Gibson, Jack Wise, Fred Wharton, Earl Grojean, Harry Hammit, Ben Roodhouse, Frank Putnick, R. K. Baker and Norbert J. Schindler.

The first campaign report meeting is scheduled for Friday at 5 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Grand Jury For February Called

A grand jury of 23 members for the February term of circuit court was ordered Wednesday by Judge L. E. Whitte during the weekly session. The grand jury will include six names in the supplement list.

The court heard evidence and awarded decrees of divorce to the plaintiffs in suits of Mary E. Baker vs. Dwight V. Baker, on a charge of cruelty, and Glen Barwick vs. Verna Barwick, on a charge of desertion.

Mayrose PURE PORK SAUSAGE
Recipe:
Sausage with Candied Apple Rings
(Yield: 8 servings)
18 Mayrose Pure Pork Sausage Links (1 lb.)
1/4 Cup Water
1/4 Cup Sugar
1/4 Cup Cinnamon
1/4 Cup Red Sugar
3 Tart Red Apples
Place sausage links in a skillet and add 1/4 cup water. Cover. Steam 5 minutes. Drain. Brown sausages slowly. Remove sausages and drain on absorbent paper. Core, but do not peel apples and cut in 1/2-inch slices. Add remaining 1/4 cup water, sugar and cinnamon candy to sausage drippings and stir until sugar mixture. Cover and let cook until apples are just tender. Arrange with sausage on hot platter.

Miner's Pain Gone, Now Stands Erect and Works Full Time

Mr. Wm. Walker, 1513 So. Glenwood Ave., Springfield, Gets Relief After 20 Years Suffering

"I am 70 years of age and have been a miner most of my life. For over 20 years I have been troubled with rheumatism and arthritis so badly that I could hardly sleep at night. I had to just roll out of bed and was frequently unable to work because of the pain in my shoulders and legs. There were times at the end of the day when the boys had to help me on with my coat because I was so stiff. I have tried many medicines but none seemed to help me at all. One evening I read an advertisement for Rentox and decided to try it out. Before finishing the first bottle I noticed that the pain was less and now I have no pain at all. On coming out of the mines I would always be bent over but now I can walk erect and the boys often yell at me saying I am picking up and look much better. A good many of them are taking Rentox and enjoying great relief. I think Rentox is a wonderful medicine and I would not be without it. I have recommended it to a lot of my friends and would recom-

Christian Church At Woodson Shows Steady Expansion

The annual meeting of the Woodson Christian church, of which Rev. A. D. Hermann is the minister, was held Sunday evening following a pot-luck supper served in the basement of the church. The various reports show the church to be in excellent condition. Rev. Hermann has been the resident pastor for the past two and a half years, and was acting minister for three and a half years preceding that.

At the close of the meeting formal vote expressed the appreciation of the congregation of his six years of service and approved the recommendation that he continue as pastor.

The clerk of the church, Charles Newman, reported there are now 104 resident members and 124 on the non-resident roll.

Treasurer Gives Report

The treasurer, Wm. N. Fanning, reported total expenditures for 1948 as $2738.32, slightly under receipts. In addition to this were the budgets of the Sunday school and Ladies' Aid society. The giving to benevolent and missionary enterprises, through the church and Sunday school, during the year was $429.18, or an average per capita of $3.90. There is a present $160 in the building fund for a bath room in the parsonage, but the policy of the church prevents adding this improvement until there are sufficient funds to cover the cost. During the past five years nearly $150,000 has been spent on repairs and improvements of the church and parsonage, much of this being for materials only, with the work being done by the members. During 1948 the parsonage has been re-roofed, the church kitchen and basement remodeled, and the basement painted, the work all being done by the members.

Herbert Owings reported for the trustees that the church and parsonage buildings are in good shape, repairs being made whenever needed. The great need now is for the bathroom in the parsonage because of the ill-health of Mrs. Hermann. It is hoped that special contributions will be given for this purpose.

Nine Classes in S. S.

Superintendent of the Sunday school, Clarence Adams, reported steady growth in the Sunday school—that there are now nine classes whereas two and a half years ago there were five; as a result four of the classes now meet in the basement rooms, one in the auditorium, and the kindergarten, beginners and two primary classes have the exclusive use of the Sunday school room.

Marilyn Crain, secretary of the Sunday school, reported an average attendance at Sunday school of 61 in 1948, an increase from 44 the preceding year. There are 21 babies on the Cradle Roll, as reported by Gladys Fanning, and the Home Department each quarter has from 8 to 12 as supervised by Harriett Smith.

The Ladies' Aid society of which Mildred Fisher is president, financed the purchase of building materials for the remodeling of the kitchen.

Pastor's Report, Election

In the pastor's report Rev. Hermann spoke of the evangelistic services last February and again in September. During the year Mr. Hermann conducted five funeral services, officiated at four weddings, had one infant-parents dedication, and baptized eight persons. He was on the programs of both the district convention and the state convention of the church, with the Woodson church, entertained the district briefing conference.

The election at the close of the meeting resulted in the following: For elder, N. H. Crain; deacons, H. L. Owings, Chas. Riggs, John Wilber and John Hawks; church pianist Grace Brandon; assistant pianist Gladys Fanning; and for the Sunday school: the superintendent, Clarence Adams, assistant superintendent Wm. Fanning; secretary Marilyn Crain, treasurer, Grace Brandon, S. S. pianist Marilyn Crain, assistant Grace Brandon, supt. Primary department, Mildred Sooy, assistant Mildred Fisher; superintendent of the Cradle Roll Gladys Fanning, and of the Home Department, Harriett Smith.

Banquet Honors J. O. Cain, State U.C.T. Counselor

J. Oliver Cain, Grand Senior Counselor of the United Commercial Travelers, State of Illinois, was honored Wednesday evening at a banquet given by local Council 182 at the Masonic Temple. Over one hundred friends and members of Jacksonville and Springfield councils were present. Jess Thomas of Springfield offered the invocation at the beginning of the meeting.

After the dinner Senior Counselor Bert Bishop of local council introduced the out of town guests and grand officers of the state who were present. Dallas M. Schultz was the toastmaster of the evening. He introduced J. Oliver Cain as the honored guest of the evening. Following an appreciation speech by Mr. Cain, Mr. Schultz introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Reverend Roy S. Hulan, who spoke on "Fraternity, A Force For Freedom."

Members and friends were entertained by songs by Mrs. Opaline Swisher, accompanied by Mrs. Genevieve Woods. Mrs. Marjorie Prather played selections on her accordion that were well received. Gaylord Spotts, tap dancer, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Virginia Sassenberger, received his share of applause from the audience.

GRUESDIECK WESTERN BREWERY CO., BELLEVILLE, ILL.

Many million head of livestock are marketed annually. Demand for meat from these animals has been increased by Swift research.

From livestock country to city counter, science blazes the trail for a thriving livestock-meat industry. Among these trail-blazers are 400 trained personnel in the Swift research laboratories and test kitchens. Pioneer-scientists, they develop new meat products—find new uses for more and more livestock by-products. Scientist-salesmen, they create new markets—better values for your livestock.

Yes, their work means money to you... millions! The average annual commercial slaughter for the last ten years was over 28½ million cattle and calves, nearly 65 million hogs, and over 22 million sheep and lambs. That's a lot of meat—and it's a lot of by-products, too! Cowhides, pigskins, and sheepskins, by the millions, for everyday leather goods. Well over 50 million pounds of pulled wool annually for cloth and clothing. Thousands of tons of lards and soaps for home and industry. Carloads of animal feeds. Tons of hair for upholstery. The list is almost endless.

Research found how to derive life-saving pharmaceuticals from animal by-products. Here numbers are important. For example, tiny glands from many thousands of animals must be saved to produce one pound of adrenalin, powerful heart stimulant. To yield one pound of crystalline insulin, vital in the treatment of diabetes, the pancreatic glands of 2,000 cattle are needed. Important, too, is albumin, tuberculosis "detector" recovered from cattle blood—and many more beneficial, all-important medicinal products derived from animal slaughter.

Now recent research has developed an entirely new line of important chemicals from fatty acids. One chemical from fat makes clothing water-repellent. Another is a flotation agent, useful in the separation of phosphates for fertilizers. Another prolongs the life of synthetic tires by causing them to run cooler. And detergents, "soap substitutes," have been recovered for use with hard water in the home and industry. So the list grows, from day to day.

Yes, science performs a direct, very valuable business service for you, the livestock producer. Through new products and new markets, it 1) maintains or improves the position of meat on the American menu; 2) often reduces the price we get for the meat to less than we pay for the live animal; 3) enables the meat packer to pay you more for all your livestock.

Mercedosa Schools Dismiss Classes Because Of Storm

Mercedosa—Students of the Mercedosa high and grade schools are enjoying an extended holiday brought about by the severe sleet and rain storm which lashed at that community Monday night.

Residents of the area have been without electrical power intermittently since early Tuesday morning. The power failed at 5:10 a. m. Tuesday and was restored at 9 a. m. only to be cut off again in the early part of the afternoon.

Long distance communication has been at a standstill since Tuesday morning. Efforts to place calls to points outside the city have failed. Some city telephone lines, however, are still in working order.

Most residents are feeling the discomforts of being without electric lights, stoves and refrigerators. Many have resorted to using candles and kerosene lamps. The failure of electric pumps has added to the hardships.

Although the freezing rain has succeeded in making the trees glisten with picture-card beauty, it has also done irreparable damage to many of the larger trees, weighting them down and causing branches and limbs to crack and fall.

Besides nearly deadening telephone communication by falling on the lines, the toppling branches have also damaged a number of roofs throughout the vicinity. No accidents have been reported.

Rockets Edge Crimson 43-42 In Thrilling Intra-City Fray

Rushville Favored In Winchester Meet; Opens Monday P.M.

The oldest successive invitational tournament in Illinois, the Winchester Invitational, gets underway here on Monday, January 17. Sixteen of the strongest teams in central Illinois will be battling it out for top honors. Rushville is the defending champion and has another fine entry this year. They open the tourney at 4:30 Monday against the Wolves from Barry.

The Rushville Rockets are the coaches favorites to win this classic. They will find the going rough to work their way into the finals. Bridgeville, Mt. Sterling, Jerseyville and Notre Dame of Quincy are all tough tournament quintets and are in the upper bracket with Rushville. Milton and Nebo, also in the upper bracket, have their usual good teams this year and will give their opponents plenty to worry about.

Fast Team Rated Second
Heading the lower bracket and the only team in the tourney who has lost only one game is the entry of the host school, the Winchester Wildcats. The local team won the Milton Holiday Tournament and are presently leading the Illinois Valley Conference with Carrollton. Other outstanding teams in the lower bracket with Winchester and Carrollton are Hardin, Roodhouse, and White Hall.

An unusual array of exceptional scoring talent will be on display during this week of basketball. Outstanding scorers include Dick Patterson, Rushville's 6 ft. and 2 inch center. Fat has hit 20 points several times this season and is an unusually fine rebounder. Bob Collins, Griggsville ace, is the only Senior on that outstanding team and a scoring sensation, consistently ringing the bell for 16-20 points. Bill Reynolds, Jerseyville guard, hit 20 points against a good Stanton team recently. Carrollton has two unusually fine boys in Brannon and Staples. Ron Milnes, White Hall forward, is the third high scorer in the Illinois Valley League and has twice hit 26 points this season. Winchester has a great center in Reg Hankins, the team's leading scorer, whose range has run up to 32 points and who leads the Valley League with 51 points in two games.

Previous Tourney Experience
Notre Dame of Quincy has the tallest team in the tourney and is bound to give the smaller Rushville favorites a terrific struggle in their tussle Tuesday evening.

Several of these teams have had previous tournament experience this season. Rushville competed at Pontiac, Notre Dame at Jacksonville, Hardin and Pleasant Hill at Hardin, and Milton, Nebo, Griggsville and Winchester at Milton. Griggsville was runner-up at Milton.

Name Officials For Tourney
Teams participating in the 27th Annual Winchester Invitational Basketball Tournament from January 17 thru 22 are assured of an expert corps of officials.

Headed the list is Ted Search of Chester, who worked in the State finals last year. "Dapper Ted" is an outstanding official who works all the leading games in Southern Illinois. Arbiters with Sectional Tournament experience are Harry Fitzhugh, Principal at Franklin and member of the Illinois High School Association Board of Directors, Clyde McQueen, Springfield coach, and Max Miller of Macomb. The other men, all top-notch and with Regional Tournament backgrounds are John Fraser of Alton, Russell Jacoby of Palmyra, Keith Peabody of Jacksonville, Dan Robbins of Macomb, and Orval Sheppard of Jacksonville.

The bench officials include Harry Hoover and Tom Danner and Addison Scott of Winchester as timers and Paul Markkille, Eldon Wickline, George O'Donnell and Rev. Ralph E. Jasper, all of Winchester, as scorers.

Louis Would Fight In June Against Charles Or Savold

New York, Jan. 13.—(P)—Joe Louis wants to defend his heavyweight boxing championship next June against the winner of a fight between Ezzard Charles and Lee Savold.

This was disclosed last night by Col. Edward Egan, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, who said the Brown Bomber had assured him he will fight one more time.

Egan injected this semi-official announcement of the champion's plans into the after-dinner informalities of the New York Boxing Writers' annual function.

Ike Williams Honored
The writers gathered for the principal purpose of honoring Ike Williams, the busy lightweight champion from Trenton, N. J., and Dan Morgan, 75-year-old veteran fight manager.

Williams received the Edward J. Neil memorial award as the man who did the most for boxing in 1948.

The award was set up in memory of the former Associated Press boxing writer and war correspondent who was killed during the Spanish Civil war.

Williams defended his title three times during the past year and fought ten times. He also received a special ring magazine medal as "Boxer of the year."

Morgan was given the James J. Walker award for long and meritorious service to the sport.

Egan brought up the Louis' title defense in his regular report to the meeting in which he described the financial health of the ring business.

The commission head said he had talked by telephone with Louis, in Topeka, Kansas.

"I asked Joe if he planned to fight again," Egan related. "He said, yes, he did. He said he would fight in June and there were two possibilities as foes—Ezzard Charles and Lee Savold. He said he'd defend his crown against the winner."

Charles, the Cincinnati sniper who has been fighting in the lightweight class, and Savold, the Patterson, N. J., heavy who is in England, haven't been matched.

Ol' Man Winter, He Ain't What He Used to Be

Southern California is freezing and snow-sweet; the usually icy shores of Lake Erie and points east are enjoying June in January. In Cleveland, O., a city normally buffeted by chill blasts off Lake Erie, the annual winter carnival at Flora Stone Mather College was postponed on account of no winter. Jean Gail, left, donned snow shoes, but she couldn't use them on the bright green grass. Skating and snow-sculpturing events were scheduled but there was neither snow nor ice. Out in "sunny" California, however, there was plenty of snow. New Orleans-born actress Cleo Moore, right, got her first taste of fun in the snow, after finishing her sun bath—under an artificial lamp.

Durocher, Giants, Fitzsimmons Are Fined By Chandler

Cincinnati, Jan. 13.—(P)—It cost Leo Durocher, Freddie Fitzsimmons and the New York Giants stiff fines for negotiating a 1949 contract while the former Boston Braves coach was still a member of the Beantown club.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler yesterday fined the Giants manager, Fitzsimmons and the National League club for violating the tampering rule. Chandler also warned that more severe penalties are in store for anyone who does it again.

Durocher and Fitzsimmons were assessed $500 each and the Giants, $2,000, Chandler said.

"Clubs and their personnel are warned that future violations of the tampering rule will be accompanied by more severe penalties than those imposed in this instance."

"Coach Fitzsimmons and Manager Durocher both professed ignorance of the tampering rule. Such ignorance is not excused now and will not be in the future."

According to the rules, a player or coach must have the written consent of his club before he may negotiate with another outfit.

Only because Fitzsimmons has had "long and honorable service in baseball," was he spared being banned for the 1949 season, Chandler said.

It was the second time Chandler has chastised the former Brooklyn Dodgers manager. In 1947 Durocher was suspended as pilot of the Flatbush team.

Leo was set down for making statements and being involved in incident's Chandler described as "detrimental to baseball."

ALL GRAINS SLUMP; SOYBEANS DISPLAY MOST WEAKNESS

Chicago, Jan. 13.—(P)—With soybeans showing the most weakness, all commodities sank on the Board of Trade today. Soybeans dropped around 3 cents at times and displayed little rallying power.

Wheat, corn and oats had losses extending to around a cent. There was a little bid buying in wheat, reflecting overnight sales of flour to France and Norway, but it could not stem the price slump. A good part of the selling came from southwestern interests.

Corn bookings expanded to more than 100,000 bushels as the country offered that grain more freely. The government did not change its premium bid for cash corn.

Receipts were: wheat 11 cars, corn 148, oats 29, soybeans 14.

Wheat closed 11-11 lower, May $2.25-1/4, corn was 11-11 lower, May $1.45-1/4, oats were 3-18 lower, May 75-76, rye was 21-21 lower, May $1.67, soybeans were 3 to 4 cents lower, March $2.45-1/4, and lard was 30 to 47 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $15.00.

Four Classy Prep Quintets Tangle This Weekend

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 13.—(P)—Four of downstate's classiest prep basketball teams square off this weekend in games sending Elgin to DeKalb and Marmion of Aurora to Kankakee. All are unbeaten.

Before tackling DeKalb on Saturday, Elgin's rangey Maroons on Friday defend their No. 1 state title rating for the first time since being shaken up in an auto accident two weeks ago.

The Maroons bid for a tenth victory against West Aurora, whose fading Blackhaws dropped two victories in a row after winning six straight.

DeKalb Has 12 Wins
Coach George Dertinger's DeKalb lads have moved along at a brisk pace lately and own 12 wins. Their narrowest victory margin was seven points over a tough Freeport club last Saturday. DeKalb, currently ranked seventh in the Associated Press poll of sports writers, meets Rochelle on Friday.

A duel between two fine centers may decide the outcome when seven rated Marmion engages Kankakee's No. 2 Kays on Saturday. Carl Neubauer, Marmion's ace pivotman, has bagged more than his share of points in the Cadets' 11 triumphs. Duane Schnell has played a leading role in Kankakee's dozen conquests.

Three Others Resume Action
Three other unstoppped quintets resuming action Friday are Teutopolis, Evanston and Sterling Township.

Effingham, loser only to Lawrenceville and Nashville in 12 starts, attempts to halt the 15-game winning string of Teutopolis' Wooden Shoes and dislodge them from their No. 3 position.

Both Evanston and Sterling enjoy home field advantages in shooting for 10th victories. Evanston looks for little trouble from Highland Park, but Sterling expects a stiff test from Princeton. Sterling travels to Galesburg Saturday.

One of the potent southern entries—Mt. Vernon's No. 4 Rams—are favored to fatten their 13-1 average against Benton Friday and Pinckneyville Saturday.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT
Chicago, Jan. 13.—(P)—Livestock prices showed but slight variations in price today. Hogs were steady to 25 cents higher, cattle steady to 50 cents lower, and sheep steady to strong.

Butcher weight hogs sold from $18.25 to $21.50 and a top of $21.75. Sows took $15 to $18. An estimated 1,003 of the 12,000 hogs on sale were held over unsold.

The actual top in a low grade average cattle market was down to $28.50 for two loads of good and choice steers. Medium and good kinds made $22 to $27. Medium to low-choice heifers were priced at $21.50 to $26.50 while beef cows topped at $19, sausage bulls at $23.50, fat heavy bulls $22.50, and vealers $34.

Choice fed lambs sold at $25 with good and choice ranging downward to $24.25. Choice clipper lambs topped at $24.25 and ewes at $10.50.

Salable cattle were 5,000, calves 600, sheep 2,000.

Spreen Leads Rout Quintet To Narrow Cage Win Over JHS

Paced by A. J. Spreen, the Routt Rockets came from behind a 20 to 1 deficit in the second half and eked out a narrow 43 to 42 hard-won win over Bob Kraushaar's Jacksonville high school aggregation at ISD last night.

The fracas was everything that the local fans who jammed the ISD gym to overflowing had anticipated. It was packed with thrills and chills from the opening tip-off to the final horn, and kept local Crimsons and Rocket rosters, even those lucky enough to possess seats, standing throughout the entire 32 minutes of playing time.

Crimsons Take Early Lead
The Crimsons, led by freshman guard, bill Williams, jumped into an early 10 to 3 lead. After Stan Spotts tallied for the Jacks with a long one-hander, Williams took over the scoring chores for the Kraushaars, and dropped in 3 pretty long shots, while little Joe Murphy chucked in 3 tallies for Routt, to give the high school a big 10 to 3 edge. A. J. Spreen and Paul Sauer added fielders to the Rocket's total in the initial period, and Rolyn Trotter chalked up a couple for the Jacks to keep the Crimsons in a 13 to 9 lead at the end of the first quarter hostilities.

In the second canto, A. J. Spreen came to life with a bang, and poured in 4 buckets to spearhead a Rocket drive which brought them up to within one counter of the Crimsons at the intermission. Stan Spotts put his beautiful long one-hander to work for the Kraushaars, to keep the Crimsons on the long end of the 20-19 halftime count.

Spreen Leads Rocket Drive
Spreen continued to lead the Rocket drive as the second half opened, as he contributed two quick buckets to the eastside total and Vernon Tighe combed another to push Routt into a 25 to 20 lead before the Crimsons could assemble their forces enough to tally even a free throw. Spotts kept his team in the contest during this third-quarter Rocket spree, but the Jacks still found themselves lagging by 4 points as the fourth quarter got underway.

Both fives hit consistently in the last frame, but Routt got the jump on the high school five, when they chalked up 9 quick points before Bill Williams counted a gift toss for the Crimsons. At this stage of the game, the Jacks sparked a last quarter bid for victory, with Trotter and Spotts doing the scoring that fell short by a single tally.

Crimsons Push Rockets
With only two minutes to go in the melee, Routt held a 43 to 38 advantage. A long shot by Gotschall kept the Crimsons in the running, and with only seconds remaining, Spotts stole the leather from a Rocket guard and drove under the

The preliminary fray was another thriller, with the Jr. Rockets adding their points to the long end of a 31 to 29 score.

The ISD gym fairly bulged with local basketball fans. Seats were crowded to capacity by 6:30 p.m. and loyal rosters stayed to the end to see the Rockets cop this win, which marked their first victory over the Crimsons in an intra-city fray since the meet was instituted 3 years ago. Bob Kraushaar's men grabbed the first two tilts, one in '47 and the other in '48.

Beware of Romance

By Roberto Courtland

THE STORY: Merry meets Mike's mother, who mistakes Merry for another girl. Mike recently been in love with. Mike tells Merry his mother is charming but irresponsible. She has been married several times. He seems to take it for granted that Merry is going to marry him.

XXIV
A FEW evenings later, Merry let herself into the apartment that was Kin's home, even if as yet she could not quite feel at home there, and was on her way to her own room to change for dinner when Kin called to her from the living room.

"Is that you, chick? Come in. I haven't seen you in ages."

Gay and lively in her mink coat and the little cap of fur that matched it, she came in and kissed him.

"Fun to see you, Dad."

"Fun to see you. I do see you flashing through every now and then like a bright-winged bird of passage, but it's only a glimpse. Let me look at you!"

He held her off and surveyed her with fond eyes, and Merry, laughing and flushed, made him a gay little curtsy.

"Obviously, New York agrees with you. The question is, do you agree with New York?" he asked teasingly.

"Oh, yes, I love New York!" They smiled at each other warmly, and Kin said suddenly, "I suppose you have a date list a yard long and you've just rushed in to change into something even more devastating and rush out again?"

There was a very faint hint of wistfulness in his voice, and Merry looked at him swiftly.

"I do have a dinner date, but it could be broken," she said recklessly.

"Oh, well, I only thought if you were free, though of course I was quite sure you were not, you and I might have dinner together. Lisa's tied up and I'm a spoiled sort of cuss who hates eating alone."

Merry's eyes sparkled. "Oh, Dad, that would be fun! I'll go break my date. Where would you like to go? What would you like to do?"

"We'll go anywhere you like."

She hesitated and then she asked eagerly, "Would you mind if we had dinner here, Dad, and just sort of sat around and talked?"

SHE knew by the look in his eyes that he was delighted, and when he was sure that she really meant it, he made no effort to conceal his pleasure.

"Cook's preparing dinner for me here. We'll tell her to water the soup and throw another carrot into the stew, and we'll play 'Darby and Joan'."

She kissed him lightly and fled. In her room she slid out of her coat, dropped it carelessly on the bed and dialed Mike's number. A moment later, Mike was saying cheerfully, "Oh, hello, heart's delight. What's on your little mind that couldn't wait thirty minutes until I pick you up?"

"Mike, it's Dad. He wants me to have dinner with him."

"Oh, now, wait a minute. You can't do this to me. I won't allow it." Mike's voice was annoyed.

"But, Mike, I've had dinner with you and your friends every night for a week, and this is the first chance Dad and I have had. Lisa's out and he's all alone and I'm going to stay in and visit with him. I'm sorry about our date, but after all—"

"After all, you're beginning to get a bit bored with me. Is that it?"

"Of course not! I love being with you."

"Then I'll be around for you in thirty minutes."

"No, Mike!"

"What do you mean 'no'?"

"Just plain 'no,' Mike, be a lamb."

"Look, treasure, I've had a lot of run-arounds in my time. I admit it; but no little gal your size has ever brushed me off before with the bland announcement that she prefers her Dad to me—unless she adds the word 'sugar' before 'dad.' I don't like it."

"I'm sorry if you don't, Mike, but frankly I think you are being very childish. And I'm having dinner with Dad and that's that!"

THERE was a brief silence and then she heard the little click with which he replaced the receiver, and for a moment she sat staring at the telephone, wide-eyed. Surely he couldn't possibly be that childish.

She admitted to herself that recently Mike had grown rather unpleasantly possessing—it if she so much as looked at anyone else; making it very plain to all his friends and to those she was acquiring that she was his special property.

He was gay and amusing and she liked him a lot. In fact, she liked him so much that it disturbed her a little. But lately his proprietary manner had made her vaguely uneasy. She didn't want to marry him; and she knew, of course, that he really was in no hurry to get married. And when he did marry it would be one of the brittle, sophisticated girls of his own set.

But when he kissed her—as he did now almost as a matter of course—she went all melting and breathless inside and her knees turned to wet tissue paper and she wanted nothing so much as to stay in his arms the rest of her life. It was only when she was away from him that she could look at him clearly and realize that, for all his charm and his good looks, for all his rather alarming but distinctly exciting audacity, she was not in love with him. At least, she told herself soberly, she didn't think she was!

Yet the thought of being married to him was one that brought her heart up into her throat with a sweet, breathless excitement. (To Be Continued)

Trends In Government, Its Waste, Endanger Our Freedoms—Smith

The ever increasing tendency of the public to depend upon government, and the growth of the philosophy that the government owes every individual a living, is endangering the very foundations of our American way of life, Merle Smith, a member of the staff of the National Savings and Loan League, declared Thursday in an address at the Jacksonville Kiwanis club.

NOW IN KENTUCKY

William Lee Shaven, son of Mrs. Lona Shaven, 2161 S. Main street, is a member of Co. G, 506th Airborne Infantry regiment of the 101st Airborne Division now in training at Camp Breckridge, Ky. Shaven left Jacksonville for service on Dec. 27, 1948.

John C. Gerard, Retired Farmer, Dies Thursday

John C. Gerard, 226 E. Dunlap street, died at his residence at 2:40 p.m. Thursday. A retired farmer, he had lived in Jacksonville for the past five years and had been in failing health for two years.

He was born in Pike county on Aug. 14, 1865, a son of Joseph and Rachel Turner Gerard. He was the last of his immediate family, all his brothers and sisters having preceded him in death.

He married Mary Cox of Winchester.

She survives, with three daughters: Mrs. Hallie Surratt and Mrs. Margaret Surratt, both of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Vena Newman of Merced, Calif. He also leaves 11 grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

One son, Ross, died six years ago. The body was taken to the Williamson Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

ALPHA IOTA MEMBERS PLAN SOCIAL JAN. 26

An eight member committee headed by Rosetta Wagner, will have charge of the social meeting of Alpha Iota sorority Jan. 26.

Other committee members are Anna Margaret Loneragan, Mary Flynn, Helen Cook, Mary Agnes Ring, Catherine Shanahan, Helen Quinlan and Lucille DeGroot.

The regular business meeting was conducted Wednesday evening at the Dunlap hotel.

Social Events

Mrs. Williams Hostess To G. T. S. Club Members

Mrs. Wilbur Williams was hostess to the G.T.S. club Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Dodsworth, west of the city. Mrs. Charles Maynard, the president, was in charge of the meeting. Seven members answered roll call by telling about the Christmas present which they enjoyed the most. Semi-annual dues were paid with Mrs. Wilbur Williams as treasurer.

The afternoon was spent folding dresses for Passavant hospital with Mrs. Henry Detmer in charge. Mrs. Martin Burmeister and Mrs. John Kilham were guests. The next meeting, 137 West Chambers St., on January 26.

Mrs. Edge Entertains Home Bureau Members

The Jacksonville Unit of Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Milton Edge, 525 Rosedale boulevard. The meeting opened with group singing of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," with Mrs. Edge as accompanist.

During the business session, announcements were made concerning a leather tooling school which is to be held on Jan. 26 and a lesson on Feb. 26. The major lesson, "Winter Salads in Relation to the Meal," was presented by the home adviser, Mrs. Mildred Seaman. Mrs. Lucille Thomas was a guest.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 14 at the home of Mrs. Harold Servoss, 149 Caldwell street.

Jr. Woman's Club Speaker Lectures On Sewing Machine

Howard G. Brown, manager of the Red Arrow sewing center, gave an interesting illustrated lecture on the mechanics of the sewing machine Wednesday night at this year's first meeting of the Jacksonville Junior Woman's club at the Dunlap hotel. He was introduced by Mrs. Bea Ferguson, American home chairman.

Mrs. Marjorie Graves, president, announced that the club's state project will be the collecting of used shoes to be sent overseas to war orphans. Announcement was also made that members who do not notify the contact chairman of their inability to attend meetings will be responsible for paying their reservations.

Communications of thanks were read from the Park Ridge school for Girls, Mrs. Marge Ryan and Mrs. Jo Davis.

Hostesses were Mrs. Margaret Ezzard, Mrs. Elaine Bourie, Mrs. Virginia Gillespie, Mrs. Eleanor Parkins, Mrs. Betty Pennell, Mrs. Mary Louise Sorrells, Mrs. Marjorie Smith, Mrs. Nadine Massey and Mrs. Rosalie Hofmann.

Guests included Mrs. Emily Rose Zeller, Mrs. Rosalie Hofmann and Mrs. Ruth Pennell. About 35 members attended.

Roy S. Thompson Named President Of Farm Bureau

Winchester—Roy S. Thompson was chosen president of the Scott county Farm Bureau at an organizational meeting held Thursday afternoon at the Farm Bureau office.

Other officers elected included Arthur Likes, vice president; C. Warren Breeding, secretary, and Allen E. Dolen, treasurer.

Winchester News

Mrs. Alan Peak left Thursday for Chicago where she will spend the weekend with her husband who has been attending a two-week course of instruction offered by International Harvester.

John G. Dugan of St. Louis, Mrs. Frances Lumley of Chicago, Miss Jane Dugan of Howell, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dugan of Beardstown are in Winchester called here by the serious illness of their father, John Dugan, who is a patient at Our Saviour's hospital in Jacksonville.

John Coe of Springfield, formerly of Winchester, is seriously ill in a Springfield hospital.

The Winchester Eastern Star lodge held its regular meeting Monday night. Due to the inclement weather there was a poor attendance. The officers selected substitutes and the next meeting was set for February 14.

Captain A. H. Lilly, U.S. Marine Corps, left Winchester early this week for San Francisco from which port he will sail for a two-year tour of duty in China. Mrs. Lilly and their eleven-year-old daughter, Nancy, will remain in Winchester with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Henry.

Fred Schoneman Awarded 25 Year Pin By Scouts

Fred W. Schoneman, who lives at 1328 West State street, has been notified through the Abraham Lincoln Council, Boy Scouts of America that the National Council has awarded him a 25 year Veteran Scouter pin for service with the Boy Scouts.

Mr. Schoneman has been active in the Scouts over 25 years, most of them with the School for the Deaf in Jacksonville.

Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive sent Mr. Schoneman congratulations on his silver anniversary in Scouting.

Mr. Schoneman retired last year from the Illinois School for the Deaf and gave up his work with the Boy Scouts, after more than 25 years service.

To Cut Voluntary Army Enlistments

Washington, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The army moved to slow down voluntary enlistments today even as draft machinery came to a virtual standstill.

An official said the army has decided to end two-year enlistments effective Saturday. Thereafter, only three-year volunteers will be accepted, he said, except for 18-year-olds.

Under the draft act, these youngsters may enlist for one year. Any men drafted in the future will serve 21 months.

The army's decision to end two-year enlistments resulted from a lowered ceiling in army manpower and the high rate of voluntary enlistments and re-enlistments, averaging 35,000 a month.

Trees Begin To Lose Their Icy Coverings

The trees of Jacksonville shed a lot of weight Thursday, tons of ice accumulated since Monday evening. Electric and telephone crews made much progress, but there were still some homes without power or phone service.

There wasn't a bit of precipitation throughout the day. The thermometer climbed to 35 and the sun came through the leaden skies intermittently.

The limbs of the city's stately elms gave a gesture of relief by swaying upward whenever a portion of their crystal adornments succumbed to the heat.

Several seemingly paradoxes were noticed. Pedestrians walked on streets under umbrellas as the sun was shining; motorists had their windshield wipers going while driving under the dripping elms.

Some people were caught in the descending cascade of ice. "The damdest two second hail storm I was ever in," one victim asserted.

The moon came out in full during the evening. The trees in Central Park were resplendent as they swayed their crystal jewels through the moonbeams.

Later in the evening there was a beautiful ring around the moon. Some people said it was a harbinger of foul weather; others said we were due for a week or two of balmy days.

F. A. Kumble Dies In Chicago; Plan Franklin Services

Franklin — Funeral services for Fred A. Kumble, 52, of Chicago will be held Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at the Sacred Heart church in Franklin. The Rev. Father Michael Kearns will officiate.

Mr. Kumble died Wednesday at 10:30 p.m. at the Wesley Memorial hospital in Chicago. He was born at New Berlin, the son of Mrs. Mary Kumble and the late August Kumble.

He resided there until about 20 years ago when he moved to Chicago, where he operated a filling station. He is survived by his wife, Lucille; four sons, James, Jerry, Thomas and Roger, all of Chicago; his mother, Mrs. Mary Kumble of Franklin; one sister, Mrs. Harold Ryan of Franklin; and three brothers, Harry of New Berlin and Thomas and Edgar of Chicago.

The body will arrive at the Nece Funeral Home here Friday evening and will remain there until the funeral hour. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery, Springfield.

Extension Courses For Teachers Will Open Here Jan. 20

Two of the second semester extension courses to be offered in this area for elementary and high school teachers wishing advance training will meet for the first time Thursday, Jan. 20, at 5 p.m. at Science Hall, MacMurray College.

Dr. R. A. Bullington of the MacMurray faculty will teach a four hour science course. This under graduate work will follow in sequence the course given the first semester, but it is not necessary that the enrollees have had the fall study.

Dr. Victor Sheppard will offer any of the following undergraduate courses, depending upon the desires of the class: American history American government, individualizing instruction and elementary supervision. The enrollees will determine the class at the Thursday meeting.

The University of Illinois is offering a graduate course in philosophy of education Thursday, Feb. 16, at 7 p.m. at the Jacksonville high school.

A new course for graduates entitled "The Community Unit School District," will be offered by the University of Illinois Monday, Feb. 7, at 7 p.m. at the Springfield high school.

Teachers are requested to contact John C. Deem, Morgan county superintendent of schools, for further information.

Linsley To Discuss Benefits Of Grass, Legume Program

Winchester—The profits and advantages of a balanced grass-legume program for Scott county farmers will be pointed out at a meeting on Jan. 18 at the American Legion building, it was announced Thursday by Farm Adviser Robert Slayton.

Meeting time will be 1:30 p.m. with C. M. Linsley, soils specialist from the University of Illinois agricultural extension services leading the discussion.

Linsley has been working with Illinois farmers on soils problems since 1947 when he joined the College of Agriculture. He was born and brought up in Illinois and graduated from the University of Illinois and Cornell University.

Legumes are the heart of any sound grass-legume system of farming, the farm adviser says. Higher yields, better tilth, less erosion and plenty of low-cost, high-quality feed are some of the benefits from grass-legume farming.

For example, Linsley says, one of the Morrow plots in Urbana at the College of Agriculture produced 93 bushels of corn per acre in the latest 12 year average. It was in a corn, oats, clover rotation with manure, lime and phosphate applied to the soil. Another of the Morrow Plots, fertilized in the same way, but in continuous corn, grew 56 bushels for the latest 12 years average. That is a 37 bushel advantage in favor of the clover rotation.

Returns as high as $200 worth of milk and $90 worth of beef per acre have come from improved grass-legume pastures, according to College of Agriculture tests. Other examples to show the benefits of grass-legume farming will be given, Linsley says, and the grass-legume program will be discussed generally.

J. H. Cain, Prominent Retired Mill Owner, Passes Away Thursday

One of Morgan county's oldest and most prominent residents, John H. Cain, passed away Thursday morning at 6:50 o'clock at his home, 269 Webster avenue. He was 91 years of age. Death followed an extended illness.

A native of Jacksonville, Mr. Cain was born on May 2, 1857. He was the son of John and Bridget Cain, pioneer settlers of Morgan county.

During the early part of his life, Mr. Cain was engaged in farming. In 1900 he purchased the Brook Mills, now known as J. H. Cain's Sons. He was active in the operation of the mill until his retirement in 1920.

Always prominently identified with the civic affairs of the community, Mr. Cain displayed a keen interest in politics and was a leader in many community activities.

The successful manner in which he handled his business affairs and the consideration which he showed others won for him the respect and friendship of many. He was held in esteem by all who knew him.

His marriage to Miss Catherine Maroney was solemnized on June 3, 1885, at the Church of Our Saviour. She died in 1924.

Eight Sons, One Daughter

Of the nine children born to this union, the following survive: Louis A. Cain, Muriel E. Cain and J. Oliver Cain of this city; George R. Cain of Evansville, Ind.; Thomas D. Cain of Denver, Colo.; Harry L. Cain of Chicago; and Fred A. Cain and Catherine Cain of this city.

One son, John D. Cain, preceded his father in death.

Also surviving are seven grandchildren: John B. Cain and William D. Cain, both of Beverly Hills, Calif.; Mrs. James G. Haskell of Denver, Colo.; Robert L. Cain and Miss Joanne Cain of this city; Merle G. Cain of Chicago, and Katherine Ann Cain, also of Denver, and two great grandchildren, Jeffrey and Andrew Cain of Beverly Hills.

There are also two sisters and one brother, Miss Elizabeth Cain of this city and Mrs. Harriet Corrigan of Omaha, Neb., and Thomas R. Cain of this city.

At the same time City Clerk John R. Phillips received the petition of Henry G. Meyer, Democrat, for alderman from the fourth ward.

Those who have filed petition for the primary election to be held Feb. 22 may withdraw petitions from now until Jan. 18.

Republican:

Mayor, Ernest L. Hoagland and A. E. Williamson

Treasurer, Ilma B. Cline

Aldermen: First Ward, none; Second Ward, Elmer McNeil and Ben H. Denney; Third Ward, Ivan A. Ingram; Fourth Ward, Robert A. Weaver and Crit Haneline.

Arenzville Club Has E. H. Garlich As Guest Speaker

E. H. Garlich, farm adviser for Morgan county, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Arenzville Junior Woman's club held at the home of Mary Frances McLain. His topic was "Soil Conservation." Mrs. Robert Clark was program chairman.

During the business session, conducted by the vice-president, Mrs. John Clark, a nominating committee, composed of Mrs. Clark, chairman, Mary Frances McLain and Mrs. Edward Hackman, was appointed.

Roll call was answered by 12 members telling their "Favorite Dish." Business discussed by the group included the bake sale, which is to be held Jan. 29; plans for a progressive dinner; and the club's part in the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Marlin Staake was welcomed into the club as a new member. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. John Clark, in the absence of the assistant hostess, Mrs. Eldore Nobis.

Guests included Mrs. Virgil Fritsch, Mrs. Staake, Donna Lou McLain, John Clark and Orville McLain.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 14 at the home of Miss Phyllis Nordseik.

Funeral Services

S/Sgt. George S. Knight Graveside services for S Sgt. George S. Knight will be held at Memorial Lawn cemetery at 2:30 p.m. Saturday with the veterans organizations of Morgan county in charge.

The remains are at the Williamson Funeral Home.

Thomas Harrison

Funeral services for Thomas Harrison will be held at the Cody and Son Memorial Home at 2:30 p.m. Friday. The Rev. Francis Smith of Mechanicsburg, assisted by the Rev. John W. Collins of Centenary Methodist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Mission Group At Glasgow Has January Meeting

Glasgow—The Glasgow Christian Missionary society held its January meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. E. Overton. Eleven members were present.

The vice-president, Mrs. Alex Young, was in charge of the meeting. Devotional leader was Mrs. Everette Hester. The lesson chapter was given by Mrs. John L. Sherwin. The names of Sunshine Sisters for the past year were revealed.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Belle Preenen.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. J. H. Edwards, Feb. 9.

Mrs. Albert Gauges has returned to her home south of Glasgow after being a patient for a week in the White Hall hospital, while having X-rays and undergoing treatments.

The condition of Bert Drummond, who has been seriously ill at Our Saviour's hospital in Jacksonville the past two weeks, remains about the same. Plans are being made to remove him to a St. Louis hospital within the next few days for further treatment.

CARD OF THANKS

To my doctor, the nurses and nurse aides, and all the staff of Passavant hospital, to those who sent cards and made visits, my sincere thanks.
